Our ethos theme for this week is:

We care about other people's feelings.

Dear Parents,

In English this week, we have continued to read our class read 'How to Train Your Dragon'. As part of this, the children have identified: similes, metaphor and hyperbole as Cressida Cowell's books are littered with figurative language.

As part of our English work, we have begun to work on identifying nouns and adjectives focussing particularly on noun phrases.

- Noun phrases – determiner and noun (the desert)
- Expanded noun phrases – determiner, adjective and a noun (the relentless desert)
- Phrase - a phrase is not a sentence but is a group of words that adds meaning to a sentence.
- Clause – a clause is a group of words with a subject and a verb. A main clause makes sense on its own. A subordinate clause includes a subject and a verb but it must be added to the main clause as it doesn't make sense on its own.

In our Maths lessons, the children have worked on adding multiples of 10 and 100 to 4 digit numbers as well as rounding and comparing numbers.

Our recommended read this week is: "Which Way to Anywhere" by Cressida Cowell.

'K2 O'Hero is a seemingly ordinary boy - after all, he and his twin sister Izzabird have been sworn to keep their family's magical history a secret. Not even their infuriating stepsiblings, Theo and Mabel, know that magic exists. They believe K2 to be the most hopeless person they have ever known.

But K2 has a secret gift: he draws maps of worlds that are beyond the wildest of imaginations. Worlds with six hundred moons, burning rivers and dark, twisty jungles alive with plants that hunt by the smell of fear. But what K2 doesn't know, is that the maps he draws are real.

When their baby sister Annipeck is kidnapped, the warring stepsiblings will have to use K2's gift to find a crossing point into one of those worlds and embark on a daring rescue mission. With a terrible beast and a petrifying robot assassin in their way, they must learn to work together quickly - because the future of their family is at stake.'

We hope you have a lovely weekend.
